City Launches 'Great Streets: 2008 and Beyond'

San Gabriel has implemented a four-year, multi-million dollar infrastructure improvement/streetscape program that will provide better traffic control, enhance safety, and facilitate new business development.

The extensive program, which includes the long-awaited rehabilitation of San Gabriel Boulevard, launched on February 23 with a community kickoff and "walkabout" in the San Gabriel Village.

More than 80 people attended the 'Great Streets: 2008 and Beyond' event, joining City officials and neighbors for coffee, celebration, a community photo, and a walking tour of the San Gabriel Village business district.

One of the first projects of the 2008-2012 program is the $517,500 Fairview Avenue Street Rehabilitation project which consists of cold milling the pavement and laying new asphalt pavement from Montecito to Abbot and from the east leg of Circle to Del Mar. New gutters will be installed and the median between Bilton and Del Mar will be reconstructed. Handicap access ramps will also be improved. Major benefits include roadway surface restoration, improved drainage and better access.

Subsequent projects will result in major improvements to portions of San Gabriel Boulevard, Roses Road, Del Mar Avenue, and Las Tunas Drive.

For more information, please contact City Engineer Bruce Mattern at (626) 308-2806, ext. 4631. To download the flyer or to read more about 'Great Streets,' check out the information at www.sangabrielcity.com and click on Current News and Events.

The San Gabriel Parks and Recreation Department offers passport services including passport photos and expedited service. Passport service is available Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. Tuesday hours are 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

New City Planning Manager Appointed

Carol D. Barrett, FAICP, has been named the new Planning Manager of the Community Development Department. Carol is a nationally recognized leader in the planning profession, having been associated with a variety of leading planning organizations in Texas and California.

One of the first women to be designated a Fellow of the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP), Carol is one of the nation's best known writers and lecturers on planning ethics. Her career has included work in the state of Texas, in Berkeley, CA, and other communities. A former president of the Texas Chapter of the American Planning Association (APA), Carol has served in a variety of important positions in AICP and APA.

"Carol is a nationally recognized leader in the planning profession"

Carol has also received the APA Distinguished Service Award and the Diana Donald Award; the latter is given to an outstanding planner who has made a substantial contribution to women's rights, demonstrated significant contributions to the profession, held a responsible management position in planning, and devoted substantial effort to community service.

"We are pleased to welcome Carol," said Deputy City Manager Steve Preston. "I look forward to great things with Carol as a part of our San Gabriel family."

Jennifer Davis Joins City as Economic Development Manager

San Gabriel welcomes Jennifer Davis as the City's new Economic Development Manager. Jennifer will oversee San Gabriel's economic development and redevelopment operations.

Jennifer received a Bachelor of Urban Planning degree from the University of Cincinnati and has held several positions both with private architectural and planning firms and local governments. She has more than 24 years of experience in Ohio, New York, South Carolina, California and most recently London, England where she was the project manager for physical improvements projects in historic conservation areas.

Jennifer was also a senior planner for the City of West Hollywood for 11 years, working on award-winning plans and projects. She negotiated a development agreement and the approvals for a large mixed-use development on the Sunset Strip, one of West Hollywood's largest projects.

"Jennifer will oversee San Gabriel's economic development and redevelopment operations"

Jennifer says she was attracted to the City of San Gabriel because it's smaller, has an established historic district, has adopted great specific plans, and has a reputation of cooperation among its staff and elected officials.

"The spirit of working together is a crucial ingredient for making things happen," she said. Jennifer is deeply interested in historic preservation. She is certified to teach English as a Second Language, practices yoga, hikes (she has been known to rock climb), has a master's degree in English literature, adores traveling, and recently obtained an Advanced Certificate in Wine and Spirits from an internationally recognized educational trust. While she found working in Europe both fascinating and life-expanding, she is happy to be back in the sunshine with friends and colleagues.

Meet Firefighters at Fire Service Day

Come meet your San Gabriel firefighters! The San Gabriel Fire Department welcomes the community on Saturday, May 10 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. to join in celebrating Fire Service Day at Fire Station 51, 1303 S. Del Mar Avenue (at the Wells Street intersection). Ample street parking is available.

Fire Service Day is a terrific opportunity to visit the station and meet members of the on-duty "A" shift personnel and learn more about the services provided to the community.

"Visitors can tour the station and see the living quarters used by firefighters while they work their 24-hour shift"

Activities include tours of Headquarters Station 51, live fire drills, cutting up a car with the Champion Rescue Tool, face painting and free giveaways.

Antique fire equipment and fire engine displays including the battalion chief's command vehicle and the Urban Search and Rescue vehicle will be exhibited.

Kids also will get an opportunity to knock over traffic cones with a real fire hose!

Visitors can tour the station and see the living quarters used by firefighters while they work their 24-hour shift.

Firefighters will be available to discuss fire safety, fire prevention, emergency medical aid, or disaster preparedness, and provide brochures and informational handouts about related topics.

The San Gabriel Fire Department is always looking for persons interested in a fire service career. This is a great opportunity to meet professional firefighters and get advice about the education and training that could lead to a rewarding career in the fire service.

For more information, please call (626) 308-2880.

Water Conservation: It's Our Turn

Several years of drought, combined with changes in the region's climate and water distribution agreements across the west have made conservation critical to communities like San Gabriel.

But unlike many cities, San Gabriel does not operate its own municipal water utility; rather, five separate local water districts supply water to San Gabriel's 13,000 households and 41,000 residents.

Join other San Gabriel residents in using smart water practices in your home, business, or garden. Some of these are obvious – if you have a water faucet that drips, fix it. Don't run sprinklers on a rainy day. Conserve water by buying recycled paper products; you can help protect our water resources by refusing to buy and use toxic cleaners and fertilizers.

The City encourages you to check with your water district to find what recommendations they have.

"Join other San Gabriel residents in using smart water practices in your home, business, or garden"

WATER FACTS:

- Landscaping accounts for about half the water Californians use at home. Showers account for another 18 percent, while toilets use about 20 percent.
- The average American uses 140-170 gallons of water per day.
- A leaky faucet can waste 100 gallons a day.
- One flush of the toilet uses 6 1/2 gallons of water. An average family of four uses 881 gallons of water per week just by flushing the toilet.

Source: Sunny Slope Water Company

Here are some water conservation tips:

AT HOME:

- Run your dishwasher and washing machine only when they are full.
- Avoid flushing the toilet unnecessarily. Dispose of tissues, insects and other such waste in the trash rather than the toilet.
- Store drinking water in the refrigerator rather than letting the tap run every time you want a cool glass of water.
- Don't leave the water running when brushing your teeth or shaving.
- Use a bowl of water to clean fruits and vegetables rather than running water over them. You can reuse the water in the bowl for your house plants.
- Check toilets regularly for leaks.
- Repair drips and leaks promptly.

WHERE TO CALL FOR INFORMATION

The City of San Gabriel is serviced by five water companies. Most of the City is serviced by the San Gabriel County Water District - (626) 287-0341.

Additional Water District Contacts:
San Gabriel Valley Water Company
(626) 448-6183

California American Water Company

Sunny Slope Water Company
(626) 795-4163

Southern California Water Company
(909) 394-3600

- Change your irrigation timer with the seasons. In April, your landscaping will only need about half the water it uses in July.

For hints on standards for water efficient landscaping, contact your local library, water company, or log on to www.sscwd.org. Additional conservation and water education information are available at: www.usgvmwd.org/consedu.htm and www.aswater.com.

IN THE GARDEN:

- Water lawns during the early morning hours, or evening when temperatures and wind speed are the lowest. This reduces losses from evaporation.
- Water your lawn only when it needs it. If you step on the grass and it springs back up when you move, it doesn't need water. If it stays flat, it needs water.
- Don't hose down your driveway or sidewalk – it wastes hundreds of gallons of water. Use a broom to clean leaves and other debris from these areas.

WHEN REMODELING OR LANDSCAPING:

- Replace old toilets with new water-conserving models.
- Make sure showerheads and faucets are water efficient.
- Consider replacing old washing machines with water and energy-conserving front-loading models.
- Use a licensed irrigation contractor when installing a landscape irrigation system. With a well-designed system, you will use less water and have fewer brown spots on your lawn.
- Limit turf areas. Consider using drip or micro-spray for borders and non-turf areas.

One example of an often-used scam is someone who appears at your door claiming to be a utility worker, saying they need to inspect your water pipes, check your meter, investigate a gas leak or examine the wiring in your house. The person at your door may be carrying a walkie-talkie and wearing a hard hat and vest to appear legitimate.

How can you tell a real utility worker from a scam artist? Be cautious and ask questions. In order to distract the victim, the imposter may ask you to step outside. Or he may ask you to go to another part of the house to turn the water off or bang on the pipes. These are all ruses to distract the victim's attention and give the thief time to ransack your house looking for loot to steal.

"One example of an often-used scam is someone who appears at your door claiming to be a utility worker, saying they need to inspect your water pipes, check your meter, investigate a gas leak or examine the wiring in your house"

In order to avoid becoming a crime victim, keep these tips in mind if you get that knock on the door from someone claiming to be a utility worker who needs to get into your house:

- Stop and think: Are you expecting anyone to come to your home?
- Most utility companies won't send a worker to your home unannounced. They usually will make an appointment before showing up.
- Before opening the door, use your peephole or intercom to identify visitors.
- If your door has a chain, put it on before answering your door.
- Always ask to see the caller's employee identification and look for a company logo on the person's uniform and vehicle.
- Call the utility company to verify the person's identification. Make sure you have the person wait outside behind a locked door while you do this. A legitimate worker won't mind waiting while you verify their employment information. The utility company will be able to tell you whether the person is an employee and whether they've dispatched a service call to your home or neighborhood.
- If the person is an imposter, contact the San Gabriel Police Department at (626) 308-2828 immediately!
